Gene Corrigan Golf Tournament

Benefiting Charlottesville Catholic School

Join the area's most avid golfers and the man who put University of Virginia Athletic on the map at the uncompromised Glenmore Country Club for a day of fun, and competition. Begin the day with lunch and end with a cocktail party awards ceremony and the satisfaction that you have supported a most worthy cause: Charlottesville Catholic School.

Tournament to be held Monday, April 14, 2008

The Gene Corrigan Golf Tournament offers you the opportunity to partner with other businesses and prominent individuals, along with some of the area's most avid golfers, to ensure that Charlottesville Catholic School continues to provide an award-winning academic that is accessible to all students from across Central Virginia. Proceeds from this tournament will go to the CCS Tuition Assistance Fund.

Before hitting the links you will also have a chance to bid on a celebrity athlete to join your team. This year we are pleased to present UVA Basketball Legend, Barry Parkhill, 1969 ACC Athlete of the Year, Frank Quayle, and VSGA 2002 Mid-Amateur Champion, David Passerell for bidding at our Auction of Athletes, along with many more celebrities and professional golfers. UVA Commentator Mac McDonald lends his trademark personality as the Auction emcee before also putting himself up for bid.

There are several levels on which you can support the Gene Corrigan Golf Tournament (see following page for a full listing):

- Field a foursome
- Sponsor a tee
- Donate a prize
- Contribute player gifts with your company logo
- A cash donation

The opportunities are endless. We welcome your suggestions and will be glad to discuss alternative sponsorship possibilities. Thank you for your consideration!
